Item 2 Business report for 2024

Taiflex Scientific Co., Ltd.

Business Report for 2024

1. 2024 Operating Results

In 2024, the Company recorded operating revenue of NT$9.938 billion, representing an increase of approximately 21.9% compared to NT$8.151 billion in the previous year. Net income attributable to the parent company amounted to NT$593 million, reflecting year-on-year growth of approximately 40.1%, with earnings per share of NT$2.53. Both revenue and profitability improved compared to the previous year, driven not only by a modest recovery in the consumer electronics sector, but more importantly, by the Company's ongoing efforts in developing new products and expanding its share among key customers.

Looking ahead, industry consensus suggests that the overall recovery in the consumer electronics and automotive sectors would remain subdued. The primary driver of demand continues to be significant investments in artificial intelligence (AI) by major cloud service providers (CSPs), which are fueling growth across the AI supply chain. Following the completion of AI data center infrastructure, the development of edge AI is anticipated to trigger a replacement cycle for mobile devices, potentially becoming a new growth catalyst for the consumer electronics market. At the same time, the resurgence of global trade protectionism, along with ongoing concerns about trade wars and tariffs, continues to have a profound impact on global supply chain strategies, significantly increasing operational uncertainties.

Amid these uncertainties, the Company remains committed to developing high value-added products and leveraging the superior properties of its materials to tap into emerging growth markets. In addition, mass production at the Company's Thailand facility officially commenced in 2024, with the aim of enhancing overall supply chain resilience to better withstand potential trade barriers.

(3) Directions of research and development

A. Electronic materials

With the integration of edge AI functionalities into end-user devices and the continuous advancement of 5G mobile communication technologies, the functional design of mobile devices is driving sustained demand for high-frequency and high-speed, miniaturization, and fine-line circuit materials. In response, the Company's R&D strategy for electronic materials is focused on these three core pillars: (1) high-frequency, high-speed, low-latency materials to meet advanced transmission requirements; (2) materials with high dimensional stability and low ionic migration, tailored for system-in-package (SiP) applications and fine-line circuit designs; and (3) ultra-thin materials designed to accommodate increasingly compact spatial configurations. Through its proprietary formulas and process technologies, the Company remains committed to providing customers with comprehensive solutions that enhance product value.

B. Semiconductor materials

In September 2020, the Company spun off Taichem Materials Co., Ltd., which is primarily responsible for the R&D and promotion of the Company's semiconductor materials. Its current flagship product is a temporary bonding material (Release Layer) used in advanced semiconductor packaging processes. In line with the evolving packaging technologies, Taichem is actively developing functional films for packaging applications aimed at optimizing production efficiency and improving ESG performance. Through strategic partnerships with industry leaders possessing strong technological capabilities, the company is also accelerating product development and delivering comprehensive solutions to customers.

2. Overview of 2025 Business Plan

(1) Business policy

In 2025, in addition to proactively investing in R&D to stay ahead of technological developments and ensure timely product certification to secure future orders, the Company recognizes that the growing trend of global trade protectionism will have a profound impact on supply chain order distribution. As such, it is increasingly vital to maintain consistent production quality across all manufacturing sites and to uphold operational flexibility in order to promptly respond to customer demands.

Furthermore, global inflationary pressures remain a concern. Rising capital costs and increasing expenses across various production inputs continue to pose significant challenges. As a result, cost control and the strategic allocation of limited resources will be key operational focuses. Moving forward, the Company remains committed to balancing business operations with risk management to ensure steady and prudent progress.

(2) Sales volume forecast and basis

Electronics materials: Sales in 2025 are expected to increase slightly compared to 2024

Basis:

- A. Market consensus currently anticipates low single-digit growth in the consumer electronics sector in 2025. With inventory levels across the supply chain remaining relatively healthy, overall demand is expected to better align with actual end-user consumption.
- B. The rise of AI edge computing functionalities is projected to trigger a replacement cycle for high-end smartphones. In addition, design changes involving new materials are expected to drive increased sales of high-end materials.
- C. As an industry leader, the Company is well-positioned to benefit not only from the sector's organic growth but also from the rising adoption of high-end materials. This is expected to lead to a modest year-on-year increase in electronic materials sales volume.

(3) Key production and sales policies

- A. Enhance the consistency of supply quality across global production sites and bolster the resilience of the global supply chain.
- B. Increase inventory levels of critical materials and implement an integrated production and sales planning system to promptly respond to fluctuations in customer demand and adjust overall supply strategies accordingly.
- C. Strengthen investment in customer technical service teams by participating in early-stage R&D and pilot production to resolve issues in a timely manner, thereby shortening time-to-market and accelerating mass production.
- D. Implement a sales strategy that balances risk and profitability through optimization of the customer portfolio and product mix.

3. Strategies for Future Developments

- (1) Invest in high-end materials for AI servers and advanced mobile communication applications to enhance value-added offerings. Beyond existing flexible printed circuit (FPC) materials, the Company is expanding into semiconductor packaging and high-speed substrate materials.
- (2) Deepen collaborative development of critical upstream materials with end customers by engaging in early-stage specification setting, thereby building a strong competitive moat.
- (3) Optimize ESG-related investments by continuing to systematize processes and implement waste reduction measures to mitigate environmental impact. At the same time, increase investment in renewable energy to meet customer expectations and drive sustainable growth, while reducing costs through various efficiency initiatives.

4. Impacts from External Competitions, Regulatory Compliance and Macro-environment

(1) External competitions

- A. Due to the continued downturn in the automotive sector and only a modest recovery in consumer electronics, overall industry demand has weakened, leading to intensified competition. Manufacturers are aggressively competing for new product orders, requiring substantial R&D investment to accelerate development and gain first-mover advantage. At the same time, conventional products are under mounting pressure from price competition.
- B. The fragmentation of global supply chains and the rise of regional economies have driven governments to strengthen localization requirements. Many local manufacturers also benefit from government subsidies, further escalating competition across the supply base.
- C. As a global leader in flexible copper-clad laminates (FCCL), the Company possesses strong advantages in supply chain management and production scale, enabling rapid response to customer needs. By collaborating closely with upstream and downstream partners, the Company is able to accelerate product development schedules and better meet demand for new products, thereby reinforcing its competitive position.

(2) Regulatory compliance

- A. The rise of global trade protectionism may trigger tariff wars, driving up operating costs across the supply chain and affecting companies' global deployment strategies.
- B. Regulations such as the global minimum tax and anti-base erosion measures are expected to influence how customers adjust their trade models. Combined with the uncertainty of tariff policies in various countries, this has further increased the complexity of global value chain design.

(3) Macro-environment

A. Inflation, tightening monetary policies, and the rise of global trade protectionism not only introduce uncertainty to market demand but also drive up cost pressures. In parallel, these factors have significantly increased the complexity of supply chain inventory management and production scheduling, posing substantial challenges to corporate resource allocation and planning.

B. As end customers place increasing emphasis on ESG (Environmental, Social, and Governance) practices, companies face higher operating costs associated with ESG implementation. A key challenge going forward is transforming these ESG investments into strategic sources of competitive advantage.

In response to the rapidly evolving competitive environment and rising operational complexity, the Company will continue to strengthen its core competencies and invest in high value-added materials and industries. By leveraging its current leadership position and working closely with customers on joint development efforts, the Company aims to capture market growth opportunities and lay a solid foundation for long-term development.

Wishing all shareholders good health and prosperity!

Attachment I Independent Auditors' Report and 2024 Consolidated Financial Statements

Independent Auditors' Report

To Taiflex Scientific Co., Ltd.

Audit opinion

We have audited the consolidated balance sheets of Taiflex Scientific Co., Ltd. and its subsidiaries (hereinafter referred to as "Taiflex Group") as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, and the related consolidated statements of comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows for the years then ended, and the notes to consolidated financial statements (including a summary on significant accounting policies).

In our opinion, the aforementioned consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial status of Taiflex Group as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, and its consolidated financial performance and cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers, and International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS), International Accounting Standards (IAS), IFRIC Interpretations (IFRIC), and SIC Interpretations (SIC) endorsed and issued into effect by the Financial Supervisory Commission of the Republic of China.

Basis for audit opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with the Regulations Governing Financial Statement Audit and Attestation Engagements of Certified Public Accountants and auditing standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of Taiflex Group in accordance with the Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountant of the Republic of China ("the Norm"), and we have fulfilled our other responsibilities in accordance with the Norm. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key audit matters

Key audit matters are ones that were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of Taiflex Group for the year ended December 31, 2024 based on our professional judgment. These matters have been covered during the audit of the overall consolidated financial statements and in forming the audit opinion. We will not express a separate opinion on these matters. Key audit matters to be communicated on the independent auditors' report are stated as follows:

1. Impairment of receivables

Net receivables generated from the selling of flexible copper-clad laminate and cover-layer amounted to NT$3,783,834 thousand and accounted for 26% of Taiflex Group's consolidated total assets as of December 31, 2024. Hence, it was considered a material item to the Group. Loss allowance for receivables was measured at an amount equal to lifetime expected credit losses. As the measurement of expected credit losses involved judgment, analysis and estimation and the outcome would affect the net receivables, the impairment of receivables was identified as a key audit matter.

Our audit procedures included, but not limited to, the assessment on the appropriateness of expected credit loss rate for receivables, i.e., tests on the effectiveness of internal control established by the management for receivables, random selection of customers for receivable confirmations, and verification of subsequent collections, in order to assess the recoverability of receivables. We tested the accuracy of aging, analyzed changes in aging, and assessed the reasonableness of receivables with longer collection terms.

We also considered the appropriateness of disclosures on receivables and associated risks in Notes 5 and 6 to the consolidated financial statements.

2. Inventory valuation

As of December 31, 2024, net inventories of flexible copper-clad laminate and cover-layer amounted to NT$1,652,327 thousand; thus, it was a significant item to Taiflex Group. Due to uncertainties arising from rapid changes in product technologies, allowance for inventory obsolescence and valuation losses involved significant judgment of management. Hence, it was considered a key audit item.

Our audit procedures included, but not limited to, tests on the effectiveness of internal control established by the management for inventories, such as cost carryover of inventories, assessment on inventory status, evaluation on management's stocktaking plans, and on-site observation of stocktaking at major warehouses to ensure the quantities and conditions of inventories. We assessed the accuracy of inventory aging, analyzed movements in inventory aging, and considered the expected demand and market value of inventories. We evaluated management's analyses and assessments on obsolete inventories, including the estimations on the possibility of inventory realization and net realizable value, and tested whether the allowance for writing down inventories to their net realizable value was adequate.

We also considered the appropriateness of disclosures on inventories in Notes 5 and 6 to the consolidated financial statements.

Responsibilities of management and those charged with governance for the consolidated financial statements

The responsibilities of management are to prepare the consolidated financial statements with fair presentation in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and IFRSs, IASs, IFRICs, and SICs endorsed and issued into effect by the Financial Supervisory Commission of the Republic of China, and maintain necessary internal controls associated with the preparation in order to ensure the financial statements are free from material misstatement arising from fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is also responsible for assessing the ability of Taiflex Group in continuing as a going concern, disclosing associated matters and adopting the going concern basis of accounting unless the management intends to liquidate the Group or cease its operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance of Taiflex Group (including the Audit Committee) are responsible for supervising the financial reporting process.

Auditors' responsibilities for the audit of the consolidated financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance on whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement arising from fraud or error, and to issue an independent auditors' report. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error. If those amounts of misstatements, either individually or in the aggregate, could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of financial statements users, they are considered material.

We have exercised professional judgment and professional skepticism when carrying out auditing work according to the auditing standards. We also perform the following tasks:

- 1. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement arising from fraud or error within the consolidated financial statements; design and execute appropriate counter-measures in response to those risks, and obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence to provide a basis for our opinion. Fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Therefore, the risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error.
- 2. Understand internal controls relevant to the audit in order to design appropriate audit procedures under the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of Taiflex Group's internal control.
- 3. Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies adopted and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and relevant disclosures made by management.
- 4. Based on the audit evidence obtained, we conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and whether a material uncertainty exists for events or conditions that may cast significant doubts on Taiflex Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we are of the opinion that a material uncertainty exists, we shall remind users of the consolidated financial statements to pay attention to relevant disclosures in the notes to those statements within our audit report. If such disclosures are inadequate, we need to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may result in Taiflex Group ceasing to continue as a going concern.
- 5. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements (including relevant notes), and whether the consolidated financial statements adequately represent the underlying transactions and events.
- 6. Obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence concerning the financial information of entities within Taiflex Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision, and performance of the audit and the preparation of an audit opinion on the Group.

Matters communicated between us and the governance bodies include the planned scope and timing of the audit, and significant audit findings (including any significant deficiencies in internal control identified during the audit).

We also provide governance bodies with a declaration that we have complied with the Norm regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may possibly be deemed to impair our independence (including relevant preventive measures).

From the matters communicated with governance bodies, we determine the key audit matters within the audit of Taiflex Group's consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2024. We have clearly indicated such matters in the independent auditors' report, unless legal regulations prohibit the public disclosure of specific items, or in extremely rare cases, where we decided not to communicate over specific items in the independent auditors' report for it could be reasonably anticipated that the negative effects of such disclosure would be greater than the public interest it brings forth.

Others

Taiflex Scientific Co., Ltd. has also prepared parent company only financial statements for the years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023, which we had audited and issued an unqualified opinion.

Attachment II Independent Auditors' Report and 2024 Parent Company Only Financial Statements

Independent Auditors' Report

To Taiflex Scientific Co., Ltd.

Audit opinion

We have audited the parent company only balance sheets of Taiflex Scientific Co., Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as "Taiflex" or "the Company") as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, and the related parent company only statements of comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows for the years then ended, and the notes to parent company only financial statements (including a summary on significant accounting policies).

In our opinion, the aforementioned parent company only financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial status of the Company as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, and its financial performance and cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers.

Basis for audit opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with the Regulations Governing Financial Statement Audit and Attestation Engagements of Certified Public Accountants and auditing standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Parent Company Only Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountant of the Republic of China ("the Norm"), and we have fulfilled our other responsibilities in accordance with the Norm. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key audit matters

Key audit matters are ones that were of most significance in our audit of the parent company only financial statements of the Company for the year ended December 31, 2024 based on our professional judgment. These matters have been covered during the audit of the overall parent company only financial statements and in forming the audit opinion. We will not express a separate opinion on these matters. Key audit matters to be communicated on the independent auditors' report are stated as follows:

1. Impairment of receivables

Net receivables generated from the selling of flexible copper-clad laminate and cover-layer amounted to NT$2,678,470 thousand and accounted for 20% of the Company's total assets as of December 31, 2024. Hence, it was considered a material item to the Company. Loss allowance for receivables was measured at an amount equal to lifetime expected credit losses. As the measurement of expected credit losses involved judgment, analysis and estimation and the outcome would affect the net receivables, the impairment of receivables was identified as a key audit matter.

Our audit procedures included, but not limited to, the assessment on the appropriateness of expected credit loss rate for receivables, i.e., tests on the effectiveness of internal control established by the management for receivables, random selection of customers for receivable confirmations, and verification of subsequent collections, in order to assess the recoverability of receivables. We tested the accuracy of aging, analyzed changes in aging, and assessed the reasonableness of receivables with longer collection terms.

We also considered the appropriateness of disclosures on receivables and associated risks in Notes 5 and 6 to the parent company only financial statements.

2. Inventory valuation

As of December 31, 2024, net inventories of flexible copper-clad laminate and cover-layer amounted to NT$1,060,223 thousand; thus, it was a significant item to the Company. Due to uncertainties arising from rapid changes in product technologies, allowance for inventory obsolescence and valuation losses involved significant judgment of management. Hence, it was considered a key audit item.

Our audit procedures included, but not limited to, tests on the effectiveness of internal control established by the management for inventories, such as cost carryover of inventories, assessment on inventory status, evaluation on management's stocktaking plans, and on-site observation of stocktaking at major warehouses to ensure the quantities and conditions of inventories. We assessed the accuracy of inventory aging, analyzed movements in inventory aging, and considered the expected demand and market value of inventories. We evaluated management's analyses and assessments on obsolete inventories, including the estimations on the possibility of inventory realization and net realizable value, and tested whether the allowance for writing down inventories to their net realizable value was adequate.

We also considered the appropriateness of disclosures on inventories in Notes 5 and 6 to the parent company only financial statements.

Responsibilities of management and those charged with governance for the parent company only financial statements

The responsibilities of management are to prepare the parent company only financial statements with fair presentation in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and maintain necessary internal controls associated with the preparation in order to ensure the financial statements are free from material misstatement arising from fraud or error.

In preparing the parent company only financial statements, management is also responsible for assessing the ability of the Company in continuing as a going concern, disclosing associated matters and adopting the going concern basis of accounting unless the management intends to liquidate the Company or cease its operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance of the Company (including the Audit Committee) are responsible for supervising the financial reporting process.

Auditors' responsibilities for the audit of the parent company only financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance on whether the parent company only financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement arising from fraud or error, and to issue an independent auditors' report. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error. If those amounts of misstatements, either individually or in the aggregate, could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of financial statements users, they are considered material.

We have exercised professional judgment and professional skepticism when carrying out auditing work according to the auditing standards. We also perform the following tasks:

- 1. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement arising from fraud or error within the parent company only financial statements; design and execute appropriate counter-measures in response to those risks, and obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence to provide a basis for our opinion. Fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Therefore, the risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud or error is higher than for one resulting from error.
- 2. Understand internal controls relevant to the audit in order to design appropriate audit procedures under the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
- 3. Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies adopted and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and relevant disclosures made by management.
- 4. Based on the audit evidence obtained, we conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and whether a material uncertainty exists for events or conditions that may cast significant doubts on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we are of the opinion that a material uncertainty exists, we shall remind users of the parent company only financial statements to pay attention to relevant disclosures in the notes to those statements within our audit report. If such disclosures are inadequate, we need to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may result in the Company ceasing to continue as a going concern.
- 5. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the parent company only financial statements (including relevant notes), and whether the parent company only financial statements adequately represent the underlying transactions and events.
- 6. Obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence concerning the financial information of entities within the group to express an opinion on the parent company only financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision, and performance of the audit on those investees and the preparation of an audit opinion on the group.

Matters communicated between us and the governance bodies include the planned scope and timing of the audit, and significant audit findings (including any significant deficiencies in internal control identified during the audit).

We also provide governance bodies with a declaration that we have complied with the Norm regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may possibly be deemed to impair our independence (including relevant preventive measures).

From the matters communicated with governance bodies, we determine the key audit matters within the audit of the Company's parent company only financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2024. We have clearly indicated such matters in the independent auditors' report, unless legal regulations prohibit the public disclosure of specific items, or in extremely rare cases, where we decided not to communicate over specific items in the independent auditors' report for it could be reasonably anticipated that the negative effects of such disclosure would be greater than the public interest it brings forth.
